

FUNERAL CHARGES.

DR LEARMONT against WATSON of Saughton.

FUNERAL charges expended by a son on his mother's funeral sustained to recompense her jointures against the physician who attended her. Vide COMPENSATION.

No. 1.

1742. June 29. ROWAN against BARR.

FUNERAL charges preferable to the landlord's hypothec. (See DICT. No. 16. p. 11852.)

No. 2.

1749. July 26. PETERS against MONRO.

IN a question, whether funeral charges or medicaments in the death-bed sickness were preferable? The Commissaries, agreeably to the civil law, preferred the funeral charges; but on a bill of advocacy, we found them preferable pari passu. (See DICT. No. 17. p. 11852.)

No. 3.

1752. December 23. A. against B.

FUNERAL charges of a wife, whether the creditors have any privilege or preference for them in the husband's effects? Reported for advice, and different opinions, but not decided.

No. 4.
