EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order amends the University of Paisley (Scotland) Order of Council 1993 (“the 1993 Order”). Article 3 of the University of the West of Scotland Order of Council 2007 (S.S.I. 2007/426) changed the name of the University of Paisley to “The University of the West of Scotland” but the 1993 Order remains the principal governance order in relation to the University of the West of Scotland (“the University”), made under section 45 of the Further and Higher Education (Scotland) Act 1992.

Article 3 of this Order amends article 6 of the 1993 Order so that separate provision is now made for the chair to be a member of the governing body of the University rather than for the chair simply to be drawn from a constituent part of that membership. Provision continues to be made in new paragraph (5) for deputy chairs to be drawn from among the governors appointed under paragraph (1)(b)(iii).

The range of governors to be appointed under that paragraph is reduced by one to be between twelve and sixteen. Instead of restricting appointment to persons with experience in a closed list of specified fields, new paragraph (1)(b)(iii) restricts appointment to persons who reflect a variety of different interests and experience, having regard to the balance of skills, attributes and experience required to enable the governing body to function effectively.

Article 4 amends article 7 of the 1993 Order so that the maximum term of office for all members of the governing body of the University other than ex officio governors remains 4 years provided that the total aggregate term of office is no more than 9 years, unless the Court considers that exceptional circumstances justify an extension beyond 9 years. The previous maximum aggregate term of office was 12 years.

Article 5 makes minor amendments to Schedule 2 to the 1993 Order to reflect restructuring of the University’s Senate.
