Type of Application : To dispense with the requirement to consult lessees about major works

Tribunal Member : Mr D Banfield FRICS

Date of Decision : 26 July 2019

DECISION

The Tribunal grants dispensation from the consultation requirements of S.20 of the Landlord and Tenant Act 1985 for the installation of lightning protection and power surge devices.

In granting dispensation, the Tribunal makes no determination as to whether any service charge costs are reasonable or payable.

Background

1. The Landlord applied to the Tribunal to dispense with the consultation requirements set out in section 20 of the Landlord and Tenant Act 1985 in respect of works to install lightning protection and power surge devices as recommended by their insurance broker.
2. The Tribunal made Directions on 29 May 2019 requiring the Applicant to send a copy of the application and the Tribunal's Directions to each lessee. Attached to the Directions was a form for the lessees to return to the Tribunal indicating whether the application was agreed with, whether a written statement was to be sent to the applicant and whether an oral hearing was required.
3. The Directions noted that those parties not returning the form and those agreeing to the application would be removed as Respondents
4. Ten replies were received all agreeing to the proposal and they together with any lessees who did not respond have been removed as Respondents as previously indicated.
5. No requests have been received for an oral hearing and the application is therefore determined on the papers received in accordance with Rule 31 of the Tribunal's procedural rules.
6. The only issue for the Tribunal is if it is reasonable to dispense with any statutory consultation requirements. This decision does not concern the issue of whether any service charge costs will be reasonable or payable.

The Law

7. The relevant section of the Act reads as follows:

20ZA Consultation requirements:
 - a. (1) Where an application is made to a Leasehold Valuation Tribunal for a determination to dispense with all or any of the consultation requirements in relation to any qualifying works or qualifying long-term agreement, the Tribunal may make the determination if satisfied that it is reasonable to dispense with the requirements.
8. The matter was examined in some detail by the Supreme Court in the case of Daejan Investments Ltd v Benson. In summary the Supreme Court noted the following
 - b. The main question for the Tribunal when considering how to exercise its jurisdiction in accordance with section 20ZA (1) is the real prejudice to the tenants flowing from the landlord's breach of the consultation requirements.
 - c. The financial consequence to the landlord of not granting a dispensation is not a relevant factor. The nature of the landlord is not a relevant factor.

- d. Dispensation should not be refused solely because the landlord seriously breached, or departed from, the consultation requirements.
- e. The Tribunal has power to grant a dispensation as it thinks fit, provided that any terms are appropriate.
- f. The Tribunal has power to impose a condition that the landlord pays the tenants' reasonable costs (including surveyor and/or legal fees) incurred in connection with the landlord's application under section 20ZA (1).
- g. The legal burden of proof in relation to dispensation applications is on the landlord. The factual burden of identifying some "relevant" prejudice that they would or might have suffered is on the tenants.
- h. The court considered that "relevant" prejudice should be given a narrow definition; it means whether non-compliance with the consultation requirements has led the landlord to incur costs in an unreasonable amount or to incur them in the provision of services, or in the carrying out of works, which fell below a reasonable standard, in other words whether the non-compliance has in that sense caused prejudice to the tenant.
- i. The more serious and/or deliberate the landlord's failure, the more readily a Tribunal would be likely to accept that the tenants had suffered prejudice.
- j. Once the tenants had shown a credible case for prejudice, the Tribunal should look to the landlord to rebut it.

Evidence

9. The applicant explains that following the lessees' enfranchisement of the building they have been attending to outstanding repairs. The roof had to be inspected as a condition of the insurers and scaffolding was erected. Inspections were carried out and it was identified that lightning protection and power surge devices were required. Lessees have been kept informed throughout.

Determination

10. It was clearly advisable to meet the recommendations of the insurer
11. No objections have been received from the Lessees and no prejudice of the type referred to in paragraph 8 has been identified.
12. In these circumstances I am satisfied that the dispensation requested should be given.
- 13. In accordance with the above the Tribunal grants dispensation from the consultation requirements of S.20 of the Landlord and Tenant Act 1985 for the installation of lightning protection and power surge devices.

14. In granting dispensation, the Tribunal makes no determination as to whether any service charge costs are reasonable or payable.
